Matthew 17:1-9

(Paraphrased)

Jesus was God's only son, and he was very special. When he was a boy, he went to the temple church to listen and learn about his Father's words. When Jesus spoke, he surprised everyone, even the teachers. They couldn't believe a boy so young had learned so much. As Jesus grew up, he talked to people, and he told them about God's love.

Jesus had three friends named Peter, James and John. James and John were brothers. They were some of Jesus' closest friends, but even they didn't understand how special Jesus was. One day God showed them.

Jesus led his three friends up a high mountain. Suddenly, Jesus' face and clothes began to glow like the sun. Peter, James and John just stood there. They couldn't believe it! They had never seen Jesus that way before! Then they heard the voice of God saying, "This is my dearly loved son, who brings me great joy. Listen to him!"

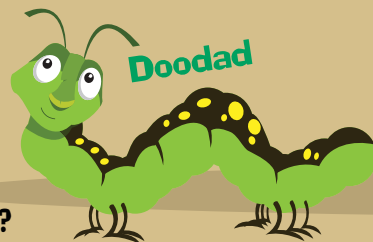

When they heard the voice, they fell facedown on the ground. They were terrified! Jesus knelt down, touched them, and said "Get up. And don't be afraid." So they got up and began walking back down the mountain with Jesus.

God always knew how special Jesus was, and three of his friends found out too.

Jesus grew and became a man.
