Simon Mark 1:16-18

Jesus traveled from town to town and told everyone about God's love. Jesus wasn't alone though, He brought along some special helpers. Jesus chose 12 of His most special friends to travel with Him. As they traveled together, Jesus taught them everything He knew about God. His 12 special friends were called the disciples. One of the 12 disciples was named Simon.

Simon and Jesus first met near the Sea of Galilee. Simon and his brother Andrew worked together on a boat. Every day they would sail out with their nets to catch fish. Sometimes they caught a lot of fish in their nets. Sometimes they didn't catch any fish. It was hard work. When they had finished fishing for the day, they would lay their nets out, clean them and fix them for the next day. Simon and Andrew were very good fishermen.

One day, Simon and Andrew were standing on the shore getting ready to throw their net into the water and Jesus walked up to them. "Hello brothers. Come, follow me, and I will give you a new job. From now on instead of trying to bring fish into your nets, you will help bring people to me."

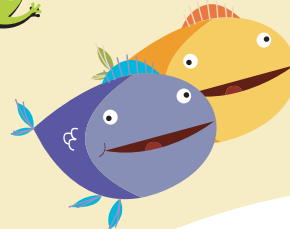

Simon and Andrew looked at each other, they looked at their net, and they looked at Jesus. They could have said, "Not right now Jesus, maybe later?" or "Can we finish fishing for the day and then we'll follow you?"

But that's not what they said. They said "yes." Right then and there, Simon and Andrew decided to follow Jesus. They left their net in the water and they followed Jesus from that day on. As they followed Jesus, they went on many exciting adventures!
