Esther 4-6

The king of Persia wanted to find a new queen. He had a contest, and women from all over the land came to appear before the king. One woman was named Esther. Esther was Jewish and she had a kind and loving heart. In Persia, the Jews were God's people. Esther did not want to be queen. She even prayed to God that she wouldn't be picked, but God had a different plan for her. The king chose Esther to be his queen.

Haman was one of the king's most important helpers. In fact, Haman thought he was so important that he wanted everyone to bow down and worship him. But God's people would only bow down and worship God. This made Haman very angry. He went to the king and said "O King, there are some people in this land who will not bow down. They are God's people, the Jews." The king told Haman he could do whatever he wanted to punish the Jews. So Haman gave an order to kill all the Jews. It was a terrible order! People were afraid. They needed a hero! And that hero was Esther.

In those days, no one could visit a king without being invited, even the queen! Visiting the king without an invitation would get you in big trouble! Esther didn't have an invitation, but she knew she had to talk to the king. She had to be bold. The king looked up as she entered the room. He was furious! Then the king realized that it was Esther who was visiting him, and he smiled. Esther spoke to the king about Haman's terrible order to kill the Jews, and God's people were saved. Esther was SUPER BOLD!
